LMM has changed my life. Experiencing quality relationships with other men in a spiritually uplifting small group setting can help guys be better sons, brothers, husbands, dads, church and community members. The resources and events LMM makes available to men and congregations help men be who God intends them to be: bold, daring followers of Jesus Christ.

I was active in the church but not really in sharing my faith or feeling a spiritual relationship with God. After I attended the One Year To Live retreat, I had a mission to be a better man of God, and since that retreat I have worked to keep that commitment with myself. Before the retreat I looked at participating at church or ministry as service to the church that made me feel good. Now I look at these opportunities as part of my discipleship for the Lord.

We live out core values.

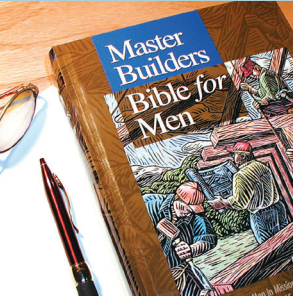

Assist congregations and men at the local level across the country.

Encourage collaborative and collegial relationships:

- Use innovative communications and technology.
- Foster relational camaraderie among LMM Board, Ministry Teams and OYTL leaders.
- Affirm LMM Ambassadors and Netcasters as our hands and feet within congregations and regional bodies.
- Participate in the Denominational Men's Ministry Leaders (DMML) organization.

Become the hands and feet of Christ by providing events and resources.
